Congressman King Predicts Repeat Victory in November

Another victory at the polls in November was predicted in Washington this week by Congressman Cecil R. King, who won the Democratic primary victory in the 17th District last week. King, who polled slightly less than 60 per cent of the total vote, credited his Democratic victory over Republican Bob Finch to the tireless efforts of volunteer workers who carried on his campaign.

Releases Statement
In a statement released here yesterday, King said: "My sincere gratitude is extended to the host of volunteer workers who carried on the campaign which led to victory in the primary balloting. "I am most heartened that the voters of my district have shown that they are satisfied with my representation of them in Washington, and I pledge continuation of my best efforts in behalf of legislation most beneficial to our District, our State, and our Nation.

Kept in Washington
"While my duties in Washington precluded my personal participation in the primary campaign, I hope an early adjournment of Congress will allow my return to the District to personally thank my thousands of loyal supporters.

Chemicals Boom; Markets Widen

By REYNOLDS KNIGHT

NEW YORK—The booming chemical industry, which in the past has taken two big bites out of farmers' income, what with synthetic fibers replacing cotton and synthetic detergents replacing tallow-based soap, is about to hand back some of that income. A long-forecast break in the price of ammonium sulphate, a prime fertilizer material produced by steel companies in coke-oven distillation of coal, will take effect July 1 and apply to the first four months of the fertilizer year. Major producers will cut the price by about $2 a ton; specific prices vary with shipping points.

An even greater reduction, in terms of the nitrogen which is what the plants want, is contained in the drop from $128 to $125 a ton for July and August delivery of nitrogen solutions, posted by Allied Chemical and Dye. These fertilizers sell by nitrogen content. This drop, however, will be rescinded later in the season.

Fire Chief Warns About Dangers of Blasting Caps

Learn to know a blasting cap and never touch one, is the warning given by Fire Chief Bernner.

Last year many youngsters were injured in blasting cap accidents. It would have been too many if only one child was hurt, but there were over 100 injuries due to careless handling of caps. Caps are bright copper or aluminum tubes about as big around as a pencil, and from one and one-half inches to five inches long. A cap may or may not have a fuse. Some have plain or colored wire at one end. All are charged with powerful explosives.

They are needed in mining operations, for laying pipe lines and in construction work, but if carelessly handled and they fall into the hands of boys and girls serious injuries can result. Chief Bernner, who is carrying on this educational campaign in cooperation with the Institute of Makers of Explosives says "If you find a blasting cap, leave it alone and call a fireman, a policeman, or the sheriff." They will know how to dispose of it safely.

He urged the users of explosives to keep caps locked up and to notify him when supplies are missing by theft or loss.
